Summary

I am an Army veteran with experience in B2B sales, web development, and intelligence analysis. I have a Bachelor of Science in International Management, with Economics and Honors Minors. Lastly, I am self-taught in HTML5, CSS3, and other web languages.

Technical Skills

Advanced (2+ Years)

HTML5, CSS3 (and their predecessors), Front-end frameworks (such as Bootstrap, Foundation, Skeleton, etc), Command Line, and Git version control.

Intermediate (1-2 Years)

Javascript, jQuery, AngularJS, and PHP. Network mapping and installation, as well as basic systems administration on Windows-based devices.

Basic (0 – 1 Year)

HandlebarsJS, MySQL, MongoDB, Ruby/Rails, Python, NodeJS, and Java. Search Engine Optimization and website performance management.

That's it! ...Well, no it isn't. You can read the second page for the hard bits.
(But we both know, that stuff is boring.)

I want to be your junior UX/developer on the front-end. I have a passion for tweaking things to make them more useable and beautiful. If you want someone who strives to learn, adapt, and is energetic, I am your person.
